BBC Makes a World-Wide Impact
We hear amazing stories from our graduates who are serving around the world:

- New Zealand where a graduate serves in a church plant, building relationships in the community.
- Pakistan where a new church building is to be dedicated and two of our graduates train women to sew.
- Cambodia where a couple graduates are building relationships as they serve as encouragers.
- India where 125 young people and 75 adult sponsors attended a youth seminar. They studied during the morning and in the afternoon invited people in the area to the evening service — all because a BBC graduate befriended a young man nearly 50 years ago and that young man returned and started a church that continues to grow!
- The Philippines where a graduate reports that last year 85 new Christian groups began meeting with over 2,200 attendees each week. More than 60 believers have been baptized! Another mission in the Philippines reported starting sustainable family operations to raise chickens. Our graduate there has started over twenty churches in the last several years!

God is doing amazing things through Christians that have been equipped to glorify God as they build up the church and advance the GOSPEL worldwide!

Mobilizing for Missions at ICOM!

The International Conference On Mission (ICOM) has been an important connection point for BBC for many years. This past year 1/2 of our student body, our President, our Director of Development, and our Professor of Intercultural Studies attended the conference. Curt Nordhielm, our Outreach Coordinator, serves as Chairman of the ICOM Board. We believe it is the best connecting place for students to be mobilized for the unfinished task of making Christ known to the nations!

ICOM 2016 will be a great experience for Boise Bible College and we are planning to take another large group of students. Danny Harrod, BBC Professor of Intercultural Studies, is serving as the Vice President of ICOM. He supports the President, Mike Schrage, through prayer initiatives and visiting area churches. He and Mike served together in Kenya and are close friends.

The theme for this great conference is: “MOBILIZE: Disciples Making Disciples.” The dates are November 17-20, 2016 in Lexington, Kentucky. President Stine and our students we are getting excited about what God will do through us when we pull together to share the love of Christ Worldwide.

(If you are interested in promoting ICOM/BBC, call Danny Harrod at 208-376-7731 to arrange a visit.)

A New Era of Modern Missions at BBC?

By: David Hamilton, President, BBC Missions Committee

The last week of February ushered in a new era of modern missions as BBC’s student led missions committee hosted this year’s Missions Emphasis Week. The theme was “Engaging the World: With the Peace of the Gospel” and the scripture of the week was Ephesians 2:14-18.

The halls of the classroom building were decked out in flags and various cross-cultural decorations, as well as an amazing prayer room designed by Mellissa Hodgson, a member of the missions committee. Every day the student body prayed for an active missionary alumni from BBC.

Pioneer Bible Translator, Joe Hoover, came for the week and spoke to the students about how to engage the world with the peace of the Gospel. He encouraged the student body with the idea that they could be the beginning of the “fourth great era of modern missions,” seeking to break down cultural barriers both at home and abroad with the unifying peace of the Gospel.

On Thursday night, the student body modeled Joe’s teaching by hosting “One Voice,” a night of cross-cultural worship. A Congolese choir, a Burmese choir, a Chinese choir, and the BBC Image team joined together for a great time of fellowship and worship. Everyone got to experience a wide range of languages lifting up praise to the same Lord!

Altogether, this year’s Missions Emphasis Week went splendidly. It served to equip the student body with Paul’s message to tear down the dividing walls of hostility with the peace of the Gospel!
