Spring 2013

L lord and the college with our efforts, many thousands of dollars have been saved that can be used to educate more students for ministry. Our prayer is for many more willing hearts to join us in the Gray Crew family and be blessed as we have been.” The Gray Crew will start arriving in the middle of May to take in our Spring Conference. Groups will be on campus arriving in the middle of May to take in our Spring Conference. Groups will be on campus through most of June. Call us to volunteer and arrange free housing!

Other “Gray” friends of BBC have been generous in donating their libraries to help future ministers. We recently received many reference books from Kent Arnold and Ted Hurburt. Our library accepts Christian books for use in the library. Books we cannot use are arranged free housing!

We send the Outreach to inform our friends and supporters about the activities of Boise Bible College. If you do not want to receive it in the future, please notify us at dburford@boisebible.edu.

Boise Bible College is intentionally equipping Christians who act with integrity and maintain the heart of a servant with a biblical world view as they serve the global church. Our vision is to prepare workers for the harvest in the classroom, through life experience, by mentoring, and as we promote hands-on internships - with Maximum Impact!

This issue of the Outreach is focusing on the Maximum Impact that the Gospel has when students, staff, alumni, and friends are well-equipped to love Jesus and make living out the Gospel a way of life.

Chuck McCoy

Chuck McCoy has been teaching at BBC for the last 5 years. Chuck is a favorite professor, not because he gives out “easy A’s,” but because of the depth of his teaching, Spring semester he is teaching Survey of Bible Doctrine, OT, Christian Esidents, Hebrews, Jeremiah, and Revelation. Chuck writes his own textbooks for Christian Esidents and Survey of Bible Doctrine. (They are excellent study guides which are available for purchase through the BBC book store.) When asked about the toughest assignment he assigns his students, he replied, “Producing a time line of Biblical history.” That is also his favorite assignment to his students! While completing the “project” students often wonder why, let alone consider it their “favorite” assignment, but in the end most are quick to say it was one of the most helpful projects ever!

Danny Harrod

“My passion in life is most realized when I cross cultures with the gospel, whether be across the oceans or here in Boise working with refugees.” Danny Harrod, the director of BBC’s Intercultural Studies department, draws on over 20 years of diverse pastoral ministry to mentor his students and to help them pull from his passion of sharing the Gospel across cultural lines. “My students amaze me with their depth and passion at such a young age,” he reflects. “Many are so much further along than I was at that age.”

Danny grew up in Vale, Oregon. Encouraged by Richard Scott and Dr. Beckman, he came to Boise Bible College while serving youth ministries in Kimberly and Gooding, Idaho. He went on to study at Fort Hays State University and is currently finishing a MA in Global Leadership from Fuller Theological Seminary. He and Traci, his wife of 31 years, have 2 daughters, 2 sons, a grandson, and just recently welcomed a granddaughter! Danny contributed to the book Unlocking the Potential of the Smaller Church edited by Shawn McMullin. His chapter was on over 20 years of diverse pastoral ministry under the guidance of an experienced minister, and strongly believe that the power of Bible translation, sharing the Gospel in families, and sending them on short mission trips with a debriefing time to follow.

Our culture makes that hard to achieve.

Bible colleges provide a necessary and helpful part of the process of equipping people for ministry. We cannot do it alone. Without on-the-field experiences, which help students marry the academic with the practical, their education is incomplete. They need to see (and experience) many different aspects of the practice of ministry under the guidance of an experienced minister to make them more effective.

Chuck earned a B.S in Secondary Education/Social Studies from Western Michigan University, a BIRE in New Testament from Great Lakes Bible College, and a MA in Religion from Eastern New Mexico University. His years of service in church settings combined with teaching in multiple Christian Colleges gives him a broad breadth of experience and knowledge to enhance his teaching. He has been married for 42 years to Linda. They have two married daughters and two grandchildren. He enjoys music (especially playing on his bass guitar) and riding his motorcycle. For many years Chuck wrote a monthly column for the Restoration Herald.

Vision is to see people continually... God’s “Well done!” in eternity. As long as we have breath we will offer to God our lives, our resources, and our influence and join Him in the greatest work this side of heaven - the building of a prevailing church!” Matt Goldsberry, senior minister wrote, “At Rainier View Christian Church we’re in the middle of renewing our vision to be the unstoppable Christian community with every day impact. We’re trying to make “church” about a whole lot more than Sunday morning by focusing on changed living on Mondays, Tuesdays, and all those other days in-between. Rainier View has two campus locations with more than 1300 in average weekend attendance and 130+ baptisms in the last year. We have growing partnerships with our schools and Habitat for Humanity that keep us active outside the walls of the church, and a commitment to small groups that keeps us connected with each other.”

Bible is pleased to have Matt as one of our morning speakers at Spring Conference.

Rainier View Christian Church
Rainier View Christian Church has had the privilege of being part of the community of faith for more than 50 years. They feel a great responsibility to not only continue to make Rainier View a fruitful and effective church for the sake of those who will come in the future, but especially because they long to hear vision is to see people continually transformed into Christ likeness. Jesse Whiford spent most of his youth in Baker City. He graduated from Boise Bible College in 2005 with a BA in Christian Education and Preaching. Jesse and his wife Jena began serving in Childrens and Youth ministry in the fall of 2005 and in April of 2010 Jesse transitioned into the lead pastor role at BCCC. Jesse is passionate about teaming with families, youth and children, in an effort to help them fulfill God’s purposes for their life. Jesse and Jena feel very blessed to have the opportunity to work with the body of believers in the community of Baker City. In November 2010 Jase Marsden (BBC 2010) began serving as the Associate Youth Minister. Jase is excited to see transformation take place in the lives of the people of Baker City. There is no greater joy for Jase than to see students becoming more like Christ and growing in their faith. We look forward to Jesse speaking at our Spring Conference.

Norkenzie Christian Church
The mission statement for Norkenzie Christian Church is “Making Disciples.” Since their inception in 1953, when Christians from downtown Eugene City Christian Church was established in 1910 and has a rich history. They have two services each Sunday and are averaging 245 each week. Their mission is to reach the lost for Christ and provide an environment and process for people to be transformed by Jesus into disciples (Matthew 28:18-20). Their lives away in meaningful service. With a strong commitment to making disciples here and around the world, Norkenzie continues to live out it’s missional heritage. They commissioned their first missionaries in 1970 and currently support six different mission efforts. They are very involved with local foster care for children. Neil began serving with Norkenzie in January 2000. He leads a ministerial staff of 5 with high expectations of making an impact in the community the church lives in as well as influencing world evangelism through their support of others. October 2013 marks the churches’ 60th anniversary! We are pleased to have Neil speak Wednesday morning at Spring Conference.

Working Together
We have noticed an exciting trend. BBC graduates as lead ministers are bringing newer graduates onto their ministry teams. These partnerships are producing hybrid fruits as their different talents meld in ministry. These are comments from only a couple of our alumni who are in a real sense working together. We asked, “What’s the best thing about working with a fellow BBC alumnus?”

Jase is excited to see transformation take place in the lives of the people of Baker City. There is no greater joy for Jase than to see students becoming more like Christ and growing in their faith. We look forward to Jesse speaking at our Spring Conference.

Student Life at BBC can be characterized in two categories: (1) Spiritual Life; and (2) Social Life. When considering the spiritual growth of our students, three things stick out in my mind as being the “big three” of student spiritual development.

Life Groups are a student led initiative focused on one-on-one relationships between upperclassmen and freshmen and sophomore students. The goal of Life Groups is to help produce spiritual transformation and create a natural mentoring environment between students.

Thursday night Campus Devotions happen every Thursday evening from 7:30 with more than 40 students on average meeting for a time of corporate worship. Thursday Night “Devos,” as the students call it, are designed to help students focus on their personal relationship with God as they sing and hear from fellow students who share testimonies about what God is doing in their lives.

Chapel services are held each week on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Chapel services are designed around a theme for the year that provides a specific direction that Student Life will focus on in order to lead everyone in the same direction. Each month in chapel, we focus on a different topic that goes along with the overall theme. On Thursdays, students meet together as one group to have a time of worship and listen to a speaker who speaks on the topic for the month. On Tuesdays, students get together in smaller groups to have a discussion time based on the message they heard the previous Thursday.

The small group discussion times on Tuesdays are designed to give students a time to grow deeper in their relationship with each other and discuss topics that relate to each one of them.

One of the strengths of BBC is the relational environment on campus that exists not only between students, but between students and the faculty and staff members. One of our goals is to provide all students with opportunities for meaningful spiritual growth and to help them develop in their own discipleship process.

Milwaukie Christian Church

Look at the impact that one church, Milwaukie Christian Church, has had on this vision. Five years ago they encouraged Grace Johnson and Jacob Vaden to attend BBC. Grace received her AS degree and then went on to study Nursing and Social Work at BSU. Jacob received his BA in preaching in 2011. Grace has now returned to finish her BA in Intercultural Studies and Jacob will be returning to Milwaukee to serve as their youth minister.

Over 15 students have come from Milwaukie recently

- Sadie Allen is a junior, Children’s Ministry major. She is serving as the Assistant Children’s Director at Foothills Christian Church.
- Rebekah Clark is a junior, majoring in Children’s Ministry and Intercultural Studies.
- Paul Harth is a Sophomore, Bible major. He works with the “Regen” community at Eagle Christian Church.
- Ryan Schroeder is a freshman, majoring in Business Ministry. He helps with the worship team at New Beginnings Christian Church in Kansas City.
- Zach Nolan is a junior, majoring in Helping Professions.
- Chad Nolan is a sophomore, majoring in Business Ministry.

The Outreach

Impacting Junior and Senior High School Students

The vision of the Spark Magazine is to challenge Jr. High and High school students to do ministry. Our desire is for students all over the country to see themselves making a difference NOW! We hope to create a culture of ministry through the magazine and the different programs and events we plan for students.

We need contributors to the magazine. We need ministers, teachers, and even parents to write articles to be published in the magazine. The articles should challenge the students, through good examples, to begin ministering to people now. We are always on the watch for students to spotlight in the monthly highlight segment, an integral section of the magazine. If you would like to contribute to the magazine, or know a student who should interview, contact [Jakob King at Boise Bible College jurassic@boisebible.edu] or (800)-893-7755.

The Impact of One Church

BBC’s Vision

The vision at Boise Bible College is to be a leading Biblical institution in the west by intentionally designing an environment, curriculum, and activities that model the methods of successful Christian leaders. We strive to give our students opportunities that cultivate and develop a servant minded ministry that is lived out in integrity. Our students discover, exercise, and are evaluated within a Biblical understanding and appreciation for the global church. They come from many churches and backgrounds with a desire to impact the world as they learn to become stronger disciples of Christ as they disciple others who will in turn disciple others!

We exist to equip leaders for the church. When a congregation grasps that vision and encourages students to attend BBC, amazing leaders are developed!

Timothy Ellis is a junior, Preaching major.

Kayla Ferguson is a freshman, studying Intercultural Studies.

Paul Harth is a soph, Bible major. He works with the “Regen” community at Eagle Christian Church.

Ryan Schroeder is a freshman, enrolled in Biblical studies.

Zach Nolan is a junior, majoring in Helping Professions.

Chad Nolan is an AS, 2012, and Cory’s wife Laurie (Ellis).

Single Church, amazing impact

This single church will have an amazing impact on the world in the next few years. They provide a scholarship to all their students who attend Boise Bible College. Will you follow the example of this church and encourage your young people to equip for ministry?

Allyson Wright (freshman, Intercultural Studies) is part of the Imago Dei worship team and will be a camp rep this summer.

Cory Schroeder (AS, 2012) and Cory’s wife Laurie (Ellis).
BOISE BIBLE COLLEGE
Graduates Impacting Their World for Christ

“I received a solid, conservative Biblical and theological education that prepared me for ministry and graduate school.” (1976) - Dr. Gary Zustiak, Head of the Psychology and Counseling Department at Ozark Christian College

“BBC gave me the tools to search the scriptures and stay sharp in my personal walk with the Lord in order to let my light shine wherever I am.” (1998) - Angela (Parrish) Hayden, Teacher, Western Alaska

“To this day I still pull insights from my time at BBC for usage of real ministry challenges.” (2005) - Chris Short, Children’s Ministry Team Leader, Real Life Ministries, Post Falls, ID

“Looking back after almost 10 years of full-time pastoral and church planting ministry, I know that I would not have the grounding, insight or the confidence had I not spent 4 years preparing at Boise Bible College.” (1995) - Ben Bauman, Pastor, Dallas Church, Dallas OR

“Boise Boise College was incredibly influential in my life. I was anchored in my faith. I was given a solid Biblical foundation and helpful study skills. I was taught to love the Bible and preach from the text of Scripture” (1972) - Dr. Chuck Sackett, Professor of Preaching, Lincoln University and Pastor, Madison Park Christian Church, Quincy IL

“BBC is one of those unique schools which truly puts the Bible first. I received such solid and conservative Biblical training that when I went on for a Master of Arts degree at another university, it was like a walk in the park” (1982) - Bob Wood, Executive Director of the Oregon Christian Evangelistic Fellowship church planters
