Dear God
Please help this school stay close to You. May God bless everyone that goes here.

This summer there are many changes taking place at BBC. One of the first things to be noticed is a student center building that is two stories tall in the center of our campus. We are building it debt free because of generous donors. Our plans are for a dedication service and grand-opening the end of September.

The focus of BBC has always been to equip Christian leaders for ministry and missions. This summer we have 10 students and 3 faculty members serving in Haiti, the Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Germany, West African Coast, Spain, Australia, and Thailand. We have 23 students doing “official” internships in Oregon, Florida, Idaho, Colorado and Utah and many more working in their home churches, gaining experience that will stay with them after graduation.

We have added Cody Christensen as our new Dean of Students, Tammy Christensen as our Resident Director, and Dr. Ben Williams as the new head of our Preaching Department and Mike Maglish as our Director of Admissions. We are anticipating a large incoming freshman class and a record group of returning students.

The Gray Crew, (seniors from all over the west), painted the outside of our chapel, classrooms and library building a fresh new earth tone palette of colors! They also did many other projects! We painted the interior of the administration building with the same warm colors.

This fall Steve Naglak and I will teach a new class on using the Logos Bible software. Many have already signed up: current students, individuals from area churches, as well as faculty and staff. You will be able to buy the software for 50% off if you are in the class.

With all of the changes and additions, one thing still remains the same; our focus is on helping students learn the Word, love the Word and live the Word. Please be in prayer that God will allow us to find the funds to continue building the new dorm when the Student Center is finished and that He will send us more students who will be prepared to “go and make disciples of all nations!”

Terry E. Stine
President
Boise Bible College has been blessed with leaders with great vision and many supporters since its very beginning in 1945. We announced this spring that because of a large gift and the faithfulness of many others – WE WERE DEBT FREE! This is a major accomplishment that has not been true for much of our history.

Orin Hardenbrook, first president of BBC, was an evangelist with a huge heart for the lost. He had a vision of a college that would prepare preachers and church leaders to lead new churches in every town in the Northwest part of the United States. He was followed by other presidents who built on that vision and hope! Dr. Kenny Beckman spent over 60 years teaching and leading. He wrote on the structure of the new Student Center his thanksgiving for the “widow from Everett who gave $1 a month to sustain BBC in the fifty’s!” Many have given much collectively over the years to sustain and grow BBC to the position we are today. Our mission has remained to develop well-equipped leaders for the Lord's Church who engage the world and ministry with a biblical world view, a servant’s heart and live with integrity as they serve the church around the world!

During Spring Conference we asked all who desired to write prayers, scriptures and thanksgiving comments on the structure of the Student Center. Over one hundred participated. The Center is moving forward quickly with plans to finish and dedicate the building September 26th! The building is completely paid for including the furnishings!

We thank God and His people!

Our next step is to raise the remaining $2 million dollars to complete the residence hall. Our enrollment is growing and we expect to have nearly every bed filled this fall! We will need to add the additional 80 beds soon to keep growing. Please consider how you can help by giving or influencing others to give.
As a junior-high boy in central Illinois I was a Boy Scout in the troop my dad was the Scout Master. One summer camp the troop was out hiking, going to cut some wood for our campfire. I was walking behind another scout who was carrying a small hand-saw. Apparently I got too close because the jagged blade of that saw struck my knee and caused a deep and long laceration. After my wound healed, a rather ugly scar appeared, one that I tried to cover up it whenever possible lest someone notice it.

Do you have a scar with a story, one that you’d rather be left hidden than exposed for others to see? Paid and volunteer leaders in the church will be scared for their service at some point in time. It’s just part of stepping behind Christ. But that should not cause leaders to shy away from uncompromising and courageous leadership for Christ’s Church!

The apostle Paul had some scars on his life due to his reckless-abandon for the cause of the gospel of Jesus. He courageously laid his life on the anvil to be exposed and hammered at by God. His entire life was a scar that potentially could have been shameful to him. Instead, Paul used his mark as a platform to give honor to and boast about Christ when he wrote “…for I bear the marks of Jesus” (Gal. 6:17b).

Paul uses a rare word for the English word “marks.” The original Greek term, stigmata, bears the connotation of brands of ownership like a master identifying his slave. However, defining stigmata from out of the larger context of Galatians helps us fully grasp Paul’s intended use of it.

In that letter Paul was arguing against a grace-less teaching that some Judaizers were trying to promote amongst the churches in Galatia. In short, they were advocating that the mark of circumcision on the flesh was the hallmark sign of a right relationship with God, even elevating it above God’s grace expressed in Christ’s cross. Still more Paul was labeled (i.e., ‘stigmatized’) by those Judaizers as being an illegitimate apostle of the church because of his ministry “marks.” To some Judaizers, Paul’s marks signified weakness. In defending the apostolic assignment he received from Jesus, Paul was not embarrassed about his wounds and scars, but instead boasted of them.

When leaders humbly and earnestly submit to letting Jesus use them for His mission, scars will come. It’s just part of the servant-leadership territory. In fact, Jesus bore marks on His hands, feet, face, brow, side, and back. Yet His example to leaders does not end at the excruciating cross. The scars from Christ’s cross are glorious in the illumination of His resurrection and exaltation in heaven! Leadership scars are only temporary in light of glory. For the joy that was set before Him Jesus “endured the cross” with its momentary humiliation and separation from God, “ despising the shame” (Heb. 12:2).

No doubt, leaders (and all Christ-followers) bear a resemblance of the Christ’s glorious cross, resembling His perfect obedience and love for humanity. But Jesus’ earthly work is “finished” (John 19:30), and now His glorious oversight and intercession continues to this day! The marks of Jesus’ cross, that His followers bear, should not be viewed as shameful but instead an honor to the Prince of heaven. So, pray for your leaders today, that they would have courage as they continue following the triumphant One.

HAPPY CAMPERS

This summer we are partnering with camps and conferences from Colorado to the Pacific Ocean! We have four teams working ten weeks at 35 different camps and helping with 3 VBS weeks around the Northwest. Christian Education Professor Russell Grove and his wife, Amber (our librarian), are participating in five weeks of camps and have a group of students working with them each week. Our camp ministry is an excellent opportunity for students to learn first-hand about ministry to youth and it is a great partnership with churches around our region. We have an extensive training program for students to serve as official camp representatives. They are taught three values: 1) Stay connected to God and serve Him first, 2) Love people and be available to serve the camp director in any way needed and 3) If you do 1 and 2 well you will be the best possible recruiter for BBC!
Internships and intercultural experiences are a core value at Boise Bible College. This summer BBC students and staff are serving and learning abroad in both short term mission trips and summer long experiences. Some of the countries we will have students and staff at include:

HAITI
Betty Wharton and Kaytlin Shelton are working with the deaf community. Joe (admission counselor) and Grace (2014 Graduate) Hanson are helping lead a team of more than thirty from Ten Mile Christian Church serving with GVCM. David Davolt (Director of Development) who serves as President of the Board for Global Vision Citadelle Ministries will spend a week meeting with Haitian ministers, the mission staff and networking to grow the sustainable farming operation. Zach and Abbie Bailey are spending their summer in Haiti. Abbie’s main focus is serving GVCM orphanage teaching English to the children and Zach will help individuals with paperwork in regards to loans, micro-financing, computer work, and teaching a local computer class.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC
Danielle Barth will be a missionary team leader with Global Expeditions. Working with several other adults, the team will take a sizable group of students for two weeks. While there they will be assisting in building a roof for a church, leading VBS, and evangelizing to the Haitian refugees in this area.

GERMANY
Jacob Bush is on an eight week mission in Tubingen, Germany working with Christian Missionary Fellowship in the area of evangelism and relationship building.

WEST AFRICAN COAST
June Nixon is going with a team from Pioneer Bible Translators to work on a pineapple farm to do community development, discipleship and literacy work.

SPAIN
Mariah Winslow will serve in the city of Granada (South-Eastern Spain) with two missionaries already established there. Her focus is primarily relationship building with the youth.

GUATEMALA
Jessica Lester will spend two months teaching English to primary school students at Morning Glory Christian Academy.

AUSTRALIA
Shaina Branham is spending her summer serving the people of Newcastle, Australia, teaching Christianity as a volunteer at a public school during the week. This includes the Aboriginal children coming from rural areas to go to school. Australia requires that religion be taught in their schools if there is a willing volunteer. Seventy percent of Australians believe that there is a God but they are not church attenders. She will also attend a local church and teach Sunday school.

THAILAND
Dr. Derek Voorhees, (New Testament Professor) will teach at the time teaching at Asia International Seminary in Chiang Mai with his college and friend, Stephen Wongratanmajcha.
CONGRATULATIONS TO...

Sam and Brittany Gill who received Master Degrees from Cincinnati Christian University. Both received Master Degrees and Sam was honored with the Church Growth Award. Sam and Brittany also share the blessing of their new baby girl, Amelia Noor.

We congratulate Frank Ocampo with Jen Shelton, for completing their MA in Counseling at Multnomah University.

Jennifer Rolfsness continues her education at Boston University.

WITH PROFOUND THANKS...

Dr. Jim Byerly diligently served at Boise Bible College for 24 years in several areas of ministry. Jim’s musical talent inspired many that worshiped in song and other musical areas for over 20 years in the classroom environment. In addition, Jim’s passion for BBC and warm personality was evident in his role as Alumni Coordinator over the last few years. He and his wife Lorrie raised their boys in Boise and now are joyfully raising their grandson. Jim as helped in the worship programs in many of our churches in the valley and has always been generous in sharing his creativity. As Jim moves forward and onto “retirement,” join us in extending sincere thanks for Jim’s contributions of service and equipping Christians for ministry.

ALUMNI GATHERING...

Over 110 alumni and staff gathered for our annual pre-Spring Conference dinner. Highlights of the evening included great fellowship and lots of laughter, a delicious meal of chicken and ham and all the goodies (thanks to Chef Steve LaFontaine), dessert auction, the presentation of BBC crosses to our four-year grads, and the super entertainment by Rachel Vosksa and James Dewberry.

From the silent auction, live auction and dessert auction $4,670 was raised. A huge thanks to all of those who donated and helped generate these funds and to Joyce Anderson who always lends a big and with a servant’s heart taking care of all the details. The Golf Scramble generated $5,500! A huge thank you to Mark Stevens for all of his hard work to bring this all together.

John Whittaker (pictured right with new graduate Grace Hansen) was presented the Alumni Distinguished Service Award. We extend to John tremendous thanks for his service to BBC! John has been a blessing to BBC and all the preaching majors he has mentored for nearly 20 years. He enters a new chapter in his life and begins his new work with The Pursuit in Boise this fall.
